Assistant or Associate Professor of Latin Patristics and Early Church History

The Church History academic area in the School of Theology and Religious Studies at The Catholic University of America seeks to fill a tenure track position in Latin Patristics and Early Church History at the level of assistant or associate professor, to begin August, 2016.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: “As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world.”

The candidate must possess an earned doctorate and have primary expertise in Augustine or a major Latin patristic theologian of the early church. The person who fills the position will have demonstrated excellence in research and teaching and will be expected to: teach in undergraduate, graduate, and seminary programs in the university, advise students, direct master’s theses and doctoral dissertations, and serve on committees. Rank and salary will be determined on the basis of academic credentials and publication record.

Please send a letter of application outlining research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how the candidate, through his or her research, teaching, and service, would make a distinctive contribution to advancing the University’s mission, and three letters of recommendation to: Chair of the Search Committee in Latin Patristics and Early Church History, Caldwell Hall 106, School of Theology and Religious Studies, The Catholic University of America, Washington, DC 20064 or CUA-STRS-JOBS@cua.edu by November 30, 2015.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.