Assistant Professor of Liturgical Studies and Sacramental Theology - Tenure Track
School of Theology & Religious Studies – Liturgical Studies and Sacramental Theology
The Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track position in liturgical studies and sacramental theology, focusing on Eastern liturgical studies and theology as well as a familiarity with the Western liturgical tradition and theology together with their respective pastoral dimensions in its School of Theology and Religious Studies, at the rank of assistant professor. Responsibilities include teaching ministerial, master, and doctoral level, and undergraduate students, and service on committees. The successful candidate must possess a doctorate focusing on Eastern liturgical studies and show evidence of the capacity to develop a strong original research agenda in Eastern liturgical studies and theology.

We will begin reviewing applications on January 20. Please send a letter of application, Curriculum Vitae, samples of publications and/or other written work, as well as three letters of recommendation from senior scholars to: Chair, Search Committee, Liturgical Studies and Sacramental Theology via email at CUA-STRS-DEANASSISTANT@cua.edu

The Catholic University of America is the national university of the Catholic Church and was founded as a center of research and scholarship. We seek candidates who, regardless of their religious affiliation, understand and will make a significant contribution to the university's mission and goals.
