Student Association and Liturgical Studies/Sacramental Theology Area Invite All to Attend a Public Lecture by

Gabriel Radle, Ph.D.

“The Byzantine Bridal Chamber as Locus Liturgicus: Unraveling the Regional Character of the Byzantine Marriage Rites”

Thursday, March 20, 2014
3 p.m.
Reception to Follow
Monsignor Stephen J. Happel Room Caldwell Hall

Gabriel Radle is a postdoctoral associate in liturgical studies at the Yale Institute of Sacred Music, having completed his doctorate at the Oriental Institute (Rome) in 2012. His research focuses on Greek liturgical history. He has published the second oldest text of the Byzantine Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom, found in the manuscript Sinai NF/MG 22, and has released a number of studies concerning the Byzantine rite of marriage. His doctoral thesis was the first comprehensive analysis of the oldest Greek sources of nuptial rites and included more than 50 manuscripts from different regions of the hellenophone Mediterranean. At Yale, he will prepare his thesis for publication as the first monograph on the history of the Byzantine marriage ritual.

To request accommodations for individuals with disabilities, please call 202 319-5683.